SETH R. BROWN

Seth R. Brown, one of the oldest citizens and very first settlers in Ocala, died at 12:30 today at Micah, where he was visiting relatives. The remains will arrive in Ocala at 9 o'clock tonight and will be buried tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from McIver & MacKay's chapel, but which cemetery has not yet been decided upon.

Mr. Brown was the father of Mr. James Brown, the dairyman. He was over 80 years of age and till his last illness was quite hale and strong. His was a long and useful life and he possessed one of the most pleasant characters and sunny dispositions we have ever known. Mr. Brown's memory was a vast storehouse of early reminiscences of Ocala and it was a treat to hear him tell of the early days of this section.

Up to 20 years ago Mr. Brown kept a boarding house in the old frame building where the Campbell House now stands, on Fort King avenue.

CITY IS BADLY SHATTERED

Five Hundred Homes in Ruins and More than a Hundred Ships Wrecked at Key West

Key West, Oct. 12.—Half the city is practically in ruins, over 500 homes have been destroyed and more than a hundred ships wrecked as a result of the hurricane which swept this city Monday afternoon. Seven churches and nine of the largest cigar factories in the South were destroyed. Hundreds of men are now at work cleaning up the streets under the direction of Mayor Fogarty.

One death is reported, that of Frank Gray, a photographer. Hundreds of homeless are roaming the streets. Fortunately the weather is bright and warm and there is little physical suffering.

The War Department has instructed the commander of the coast artillery companies stationed here to aid the city authorities in every way possible, and tents and bedding will be distributed by the soldiers. At this time no estimate can be given of the financial losses incurred by the storm, but it is believed that it will be between two and three million dollars. It will be weeks, in some instances months, before the big tobacco factories will be able to resume operations and business generally will be at a standstill for at least several days.

Factories in Ruins

Of the many factories which suffered from the fury of the wind, John Wardlaw's, the Lopez factory, the Nicholas and Pohlak's are complete wrecks.

The factory place occupied by A. Torres was blown down, as was
